THE INDUSTRIAL PRAYER.

Bob Hawke is my shepherd,
 I shall not work
 He maketh me to lay down my job,
 He leadeth me beside still factories
 He restoreth my insurance benefits
 Yea, Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of Un-Employment,
 I will fear no recriminations,
 For Bob Hawke is with me.
 His restrictive Practices and Shop Stewards,
 They comfort me.
 Bob prepareth a work commitee
 Before me in the presence of my employers
 He annointeth my head with pay rises,
 My bank balance runneth over.
 Surely never never payments
 My union dues shall follow me
 All the days of my life
 And I will dwell in a council flat forever.

SUCH IS LIFE:

Man comes into the world without his consent and leaves it against his will. On earth he is misjudged and misunderstood. In infancy he is an angel; in boyhood he is a devil; in manhood he is a fool. If he has a wife and family he is a chump; if he is bachelor he is inhuman. If he enters a public house, he is a drunkard; if he stops out he is a miser. If he is a poor man he has no brains; if he is a rich man, he has all the luck in the world. If he has brains he is considered smart but dishonest. If he goes to church he is a hypocrite; if he stays away, he is a sinful man. If he gives to charity, it is to show off; if he does not, he is stingy and mean. When he comes into the world, everybody wants to kick him; if he dies young, then there was a great future before him; and if he lives to a ripe old age, everybody hopes he has made a will. Life is a funny proposition - Man and Metal.

CAR CLUB.

NOTE: The editors wish to mention that the traditional car club article was one of the few contributions received. We believe that a lot of the content is "wishful thinking" and should NOT be taken seriously - as should any part of a magazine like this.

- - - - -

What can be said but congratulations to this year's members. Well done fellas. With efforts from favourites such as ANIMAL who with the aid of only an accelerator pedal and courage, demonstrated the chisel properties of his father's car.

Gleg Troglodite was very impressed by Animal's demo as he watched his Monaro lose its side panels and boot to John's "Coal chisel machine". Well done John and Gleg.

Others to watch in the future are Rennie the ace, who moved his Subaru engine back 5' to (as he put it) improve the power to weight ratio. Good thinking Rennie, and thanks are extended to the inanimate object that helped him.

Steve Denton truly belongs in the "hall of fame". He swerved to miss a dog (real or imaginary - we will never know) and at 110 kmh made a new driveway in a curbed street. Steve has always been a true sportsman and it is nice to see him enter this field.

Ah yes, a later entry, "Waggers" who, in a valiant attempt, removed the duco on the side of the family Triumph, in a truly democratic scene as it skidded along the road on its side into a safety fence, removing some of those ugly white posts as well as his "no claim bonus". The silver objects used by more gentle drivers to open the doors appear as two silver lines down the side of the Commennarra.

Following on in true tradition this year, many records were broken.

* The new lights at St. Ives to Mona Vale in seven minutes made by a combined Knox - Shore team.

* The heavily cornered Killara Amaroo Cove Circuit (2 miles) in 2 minutes 23 seconds.

* Gudgeon set his own rather unusual record - From his house to the local establishment (3 miles) in only 2 minutes!

* We were pleased to note that only a handful of licences were lost this year. One was the Author, who, at an incredible speed screamed through a radar trap (still accelerating). It seems it took 3 miles to stop him after he swerved past a man in a blue uniform holding a stop sign nice try Pete. When asked if he would miss his licence he replied "I burnt out my engine the day before the cancellation notice arrived - it seems it will take three months to fix it. Did I hear you say impossible? Try running a hot VW for twenty miles without a fan belt ... success

FINALLY:

To finish on a note of relevance....
"When you reach 50mph, you are halfway to glory and it is just as tedious to return as it is to hack it on to ultimate fulfillment.

With new investments like P. Huntington in an XU 1 how can the 1975 sixth hope to beat our total of just over $36,000. (Alright, $36,273.67 for those with a flair for accountancy).

*3rd prize went to Re-Spray Dave.

*2nd prize was awarded to Gleg for adding $9,000 to the "kitty".

*1st prize goes to ANIMAL who scrapped $16,000 worth of cars.

FINALLY: to finish on a note of relevance

"When you reach 50 mph, you are halfway to glory and it is just as tedious to return as it is to hack it on to ultimate fulfillment.

NO BELL!

Once again this year, one of the students of Knox Grammar School has been nominated for the Nobel Prize for Literature. Now Knox has won this award for the past three years and we think we can carry it off again. We've had this boy training very hard over the past years and we think this lad really deserves your support. So I expect you all to be there in Europe this weekend to show this boy that Knox is completely behind him.

The next event on the calendar is the Olympic Games. Now Mr. Lawson.....

Come back, you fool! NOT YET! When WILL he learn that the first element of a successful ambush is surprise?

Who needs enemies when you have a friend like Jock?

MY GREATEST DISCOVERY

During my time at Knox, I have sighted many rare specimens. Once I caught the briefest of glimpses of the shaggy-eared Franklin, and I have seen the elusive Flanigan and, before his emigration to more northerly climes, the pot-bellied Hawkings. In my time I have confronted the aggressive Bore bird and have carried out detailed research into the perverted mating habits of the queer Denton. Although important in some respects, these sightings pale to insignificance when compared to my observations of the blond Archer.

All I had to go on was the vaguest of hunches. I must admit that all the conditions were favourable to the presence of this species; yet a specimen had never been sighted in the area. So it was that I equipped myself for a wait of several months at the Repco Auto Spare Parts shop at Waitara. My blind, although I say so myself, was nothing short of brilliant. Who would ever notice another petrol pump? Certainly not my quarry, who, I knew, would have eyes for nothing but the famous watering hole of that area.

I was right - my wait was long. But can I tell you of the excitement I felt when, looking out from the petrol gauge, I saw what I thought was a small green mini? As it drew nearer, I became certain that it was merely another common Begg, a well-known frequenter of those parts. Nevertheless, I did not give up all hope

It stopped by the petrol pump

The door opened And out got the blond Archer I was right! My hunch had proved correct! Can you understand my pleasure as I burst from my blind and cried: "Ah've got you!"

KAR RALLY.

The Sixth Form Car Rally was held on the 23rd June, this year and it was as wild as ever. The Course started from St. Ives Shopping Centre with the usual long black rubber streaks and associated smoke being left behind as a reminder to St. Ivians' that K.G.S. had been there. The course followed through the suburbs of West Pymble, Eastwood, Ermington, Parramatta, Dural, Galston, Berowra Ferry, Arcadia, Berowra, Church Point, Mona Vale, Palm Beach.

Along the way, drivers and navigators had to follow cryptic clues to find the next direction to head. Points were gained by answering questions about varied things that one saw along the way. Points were gained also by collecting various things along the way, e.g. -

Size 36AAA Bra. - 15 points, pickled gherkin - 3 points, picture of Al. Grassby - 10 points, Berowra Ferry - 6 points, female hitch-hiker - 5 points, nude maidens playing pool - 5,000 points. The Berowra Ferry was somewhat difficult to obtain, as car boots generally are not large enough.

The Rally finished at Palm Beach where times were checked, articles and questions checked and points were allocated accordingly. Around the Barbeque at Palm Beach, tempers were cooled by a few tubes and the day was discussed. On the whole, there wasn't one encounter with the police charger or one accident (!!) although one driver is still wondering if he will hear from Warringah Shire Council after he ploughed up (free of charge) their picnic lawns at Palm Beach.

The day came to a conclusion when the organisers allocated points and announced the winners.

Third Place (Prize: Don't litter car bag)
Garth (Mini-Joke) Hackett 71 points.

Second Place (Prize: Street Directory)
Timmy (Veedub) Adams 90 points.

First Place (Prize: An engraved pewter tankard)
Pete (G.M.H.) George 208 points.

W.C.

Some time ago an English lady who was looking for for rooms in a little village in Switzerland, asked the local school master if he could recommend any. He took her to several delightful places, and everything being arranged she decided to take one of them. On her way home, however, it occurred to her that she had not noticed any W.C., so she immediately wrote and asked if there was one in or near the house. The school master on receiving the letter, was very much troubled, for his English being limited he did not understand the abbreviation. Finally he asked the Parish Priest to assist him and together they tried to make out what the lady must mean. At last they came to the conclusion that she meant "Wald Chappelle" (Chapel in the woods), so they replied as follows.

Your Ladyship,

I have great pleasure in informing you that the W.C. is situated only nine miles from the house, in the centre of a beautiful grove of pine trees, and surrounded by beautiful scenery. It is capable of holding 250 people. It is open on Tuesdays and Sundays of each week, and, as there are a good many visitors during the summer months I would advise you to go early, although there is plenty of standing room. This is an unfortunate position for you if you are in the habit of going regularly, but you will no doubt be glad to know that quite a number of people take their lunch and make a day of it, while others who cannot spare the time travel by car and arrive just in time. I should especially ask your Ladyship to pay a visit on Tuesdays, as there is an organ accompaniment that day. The sounding is excellent, and even the most delicate tones are audible. It may interest you to know that our daughter was married in our W.C., and it was there that she first met her husband. I remember quite well the rush there was for seats - there were ten people on the seat I usually occupy, and it was wonderful to watch the expressions on their faces. My father has been regularly ever since he was christened.

A wealthy resident of our district erected a bell on our W.C. which rings every time a person enters. A Bazaar is to be held soon, and the proceeds will go towards helping to furnish plush seats, as the members feel it is a long overdue comfort. My wife is rather delicate, and she cannot attend regularly, and it is now six years since she last went, and it pains her very much not to be able to go more often.

I shall be delighted to reserve the best seat for you. For the children there is a special time, so that they will not disturb the elders.

Yours respectfully,

'Behind Bars'??

TIME FOR A SMILE:

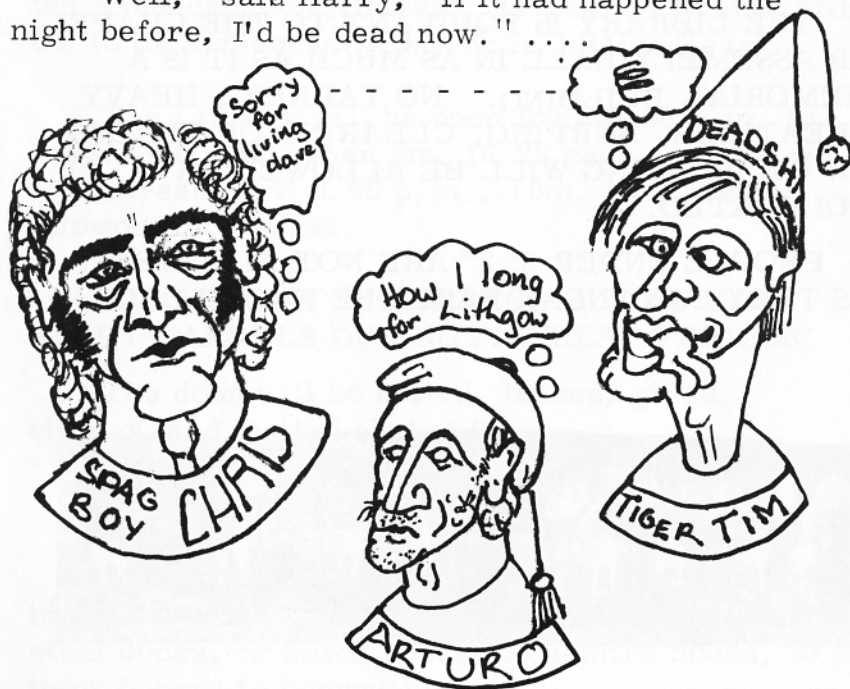

Harry constantly irritated his friends with his eternal optimism. No matter how bad the situation, he would always say, "It could have been worse".

To cure him of this annoying habit, his friends decided to invent a situation so completely black, so dreadful, that even Harry could find no hope in it. Approaching him at the club one day, one of them said, "Harry! did you hear what happened to George? He came home last night, found his wife in bed with another man, shot them both, then turned the gun on himself!"

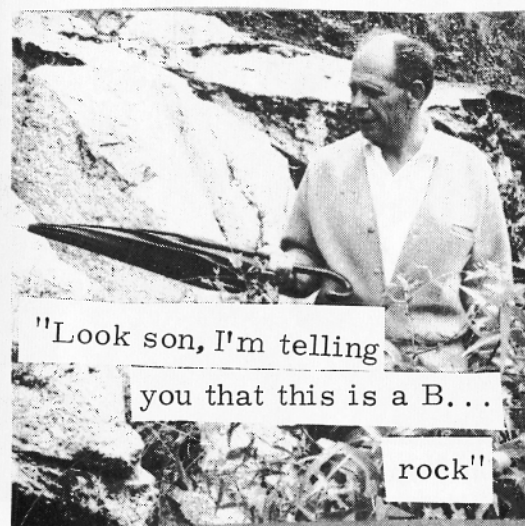

"Terrible," said Harry. "But it could have been worse."

"How in hell," asked his dumbfounded friend, "could it possibly have been worse?"

"Well," said Harry, "if it had happened the night before, I'd be dead now."

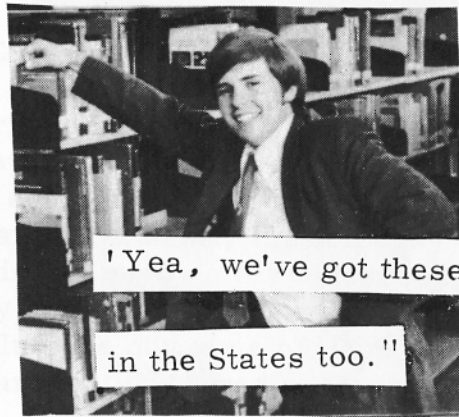

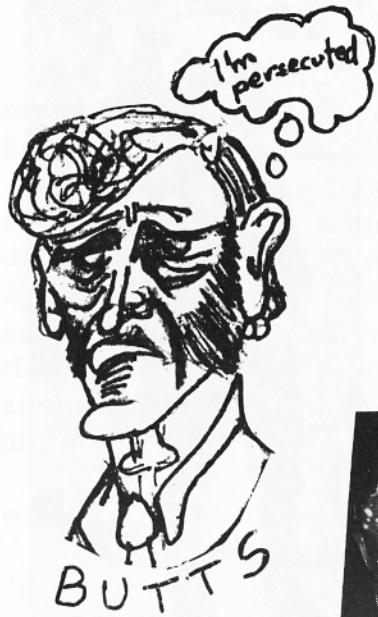

'Sorry Squire, I broke the chair'.

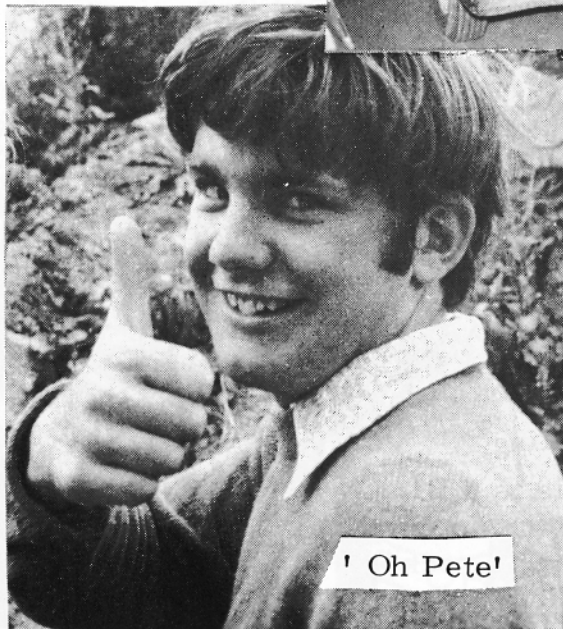

"Look son, I'm telling
